Your story

We live just on the edge of the Blue Mountains National Park, below Mt York. For the second time in 10 years Mt York and surrounds have been ravaged by fire due to no hazard burning by National Parks. The only burning done was by the local Hartley Bushfire Brigade who also bulldozed a firetrail half way up Mt York. Where is the responsibility of National Parks? All of our homes around the base of Mt York were threatened and we all had to defend our properties with our lives before the fire brigade arrived.
