Your story	Climate change has been a major factor in the severity of the conditions (particularly drought) leading up to the bushfire crisis in NSW. Exacerbating factors such as deforestation and inappropriate land and water management have also contributed to where we are at present. Here I would like to draw your attention to a paper by Dr David Holmgren, co-founder of Permaculture which outlines strategy that should be implemented.

Please read this report by Permaculture co-founder David Holmgren outlining highly practical actions - I've also attached a longer PDF version of the report
