Your story

Distressing to see how Australia is handling environment and conservation. In the 70s we were taught fragile geography, encroaching arid zones, moisture loss in soils, water shortage, habitat and species loss- precious unique wildlife. So mismanaged. Blue gum farm corruption it goes on and on until there is nothing left but stupid people calling the shots ashamed- no intelligent serial or global view just short sighted and short term. I'm ashamed of Australians for their failure to preserve our paradise.
