| Your story | I live on 100 acres 10 minutes north of Lismore NSW which was devastated by the february 28 flood event. I noticed on the service nsw site that there was an option for temporary housing pods for rural land owners. As we have land i rang up numerous times to investigate and ultimately offer some of our land to be used for this option we are even willing to buy the temporary housing pods if they could just be supplied, and the | response i got from service nsw was "what temporary housing pods? We havent heard of them...that is such a good idea and so generous of you but we have nothing like that!".

Why would it be written on the service nsw site and still 6 weeks after the flood are your service reps telling me "we havent heard of this!". Is it just written there so that the public thinks that you are actually doing something? Are all the other programs complete lies too?
