Your story	On Monday 28th February we had a cause to travel from our home Chatsworth Rd Chatsworth Island to Maclean for a medical appointment. If this was not necessary we would not of traveled as the rain on that day was at its heaviest. We have to travel on the Pacific Highway to get to Maclean. The highway at that stage was still open to traffic in both directions
-------------------	--

North and South. The southbound lanes of the Highway were in my opinion DANGEROUS there was traffic controllers out on the highway but it should of been put into the CONTRA FLOW earlier. We were in a 4wd and the water was dangerously high. The highway should of been closed to south bound traffic earlier and the CONTRA FLOW put in place earlier. I felt unsafe and was extremely surprised that traffic was waved through by the traffic controllers. I have sent photos and also have a video.
